DETAILED ACTION

Specification

1. The disclosure is objected to because of the following informalities:
 - The abstract of the disclosure is objected. Applicant is reminded of the proper language and format for an abstract of the disclosure. The abstract should be in narrative form and generally limited to a single paragraph on a separate sheet within the range of 50 to 150 words. It is important that the abstract not exceed 150 words in length since the space provided for the abstract on the computer tape used by the printer is limited. The form and legal phraseology often used in patent claims, such as "means" and "said," should be avoided. The abstract should describe the disclosure sufficiently to assist readers in deciding whether there is a need for consulting the full patent text for details. The language should be clear and concise and should not repeat information given in the title. It should avoid using phrases which can be implied, such as, "The disclosure concerns," "The disclosure defined by this invention," "The disclosure describes," etc. Correction is required. See MPEP § 608.01(b).
 - The Title of the Invention should be changed as to be the same title that appears on the Oath and Declaration.

Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 4 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 4 recites the limitation "the loaded electrical angle" in line 5. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim 5 recites the limitation "said loaded electrical angle" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

3. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Kishibe et al. (JP 2001112282 A).

Kishibe et al. teach a motor controller, comprising a synchronous motor, a feedback detector mounted on the motor for detecting a position and velocity of a rotor of the motor, a magnetic pole position detection means for detecting a magnetic pole position of the rotor of the motor from the output signal of the feedback detector, an inverter means for controlling an electric power to be supplied to the motor according to the magnetic pole position detected by the magnetic pole position detection means, a magnetic pole position estimation means for estimating the magnetic pole position of the rotor of the motor from the induced voltage of the stator windings of the motor, and a magnetic pole position abnormality detection means for detecting an abnormality of the feedback detector by always comparing the magnetic pole position detected by the magnetic pole position detection means and the estimated magnetic pole position estimated by the magnetic pole position estimation means, wherein, when the magnetic pole position abnormality detection means detects the abnormality of the feedback detector, the inverter means controls the electric power to be supplied to the motor according to the estimated magnetic pole position obtained by the magnetic pole position estimation means (Fig.1; Abstract and current application page 2, line 22 – page 4, line 18).

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 2 – 5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

5. The attached hereto PTO Form 892 lists prior art made of record that the Examiner considered it pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
